More than 6,000 people from all over the country attended the Granite City Army Depot's 25th anniversary open house. The 93-degree heat, 80 percent humidity and 45-minute delay didn't keep thousands of residents from lining the streets to view the 53-unit parade. The parade began at Broadway in Venice at 11:35 a.m. and concluded at the depot at 1:30 p.m.

Venice hires new principal

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

After going through two principals last year, Venice High School is now to have a principal with staying power. Lewis Williams was tentatively hired for the job by the Venice School board after a closed session at Thursday's board meeting. Williams will come to Venice from Phoenix, Arizona.

Rush

His certification has not been transferred yet, but that won't mean a lengthy delay, according to Superintendent John Rush.

"He meets all of the qualifications and all he needs is to have his certification transferred," said Rush. "This is going to be a great help to us. It takes a lot off our shoulders."

Williams takes over for Rick Esparago, who served as interim principal during the latter part of the last school year. Rush was the previous principal.

The board Thursday also hired a kindergarten teacher and a special education teacher's aide. Wanda Walden Brown is the new kindergarten teacher and Evora Johnson will be the teacher's aide.

"These aren't really additions; there more along the lines of replacements," said Rush. "It won't affect our budget." Tight budgets are a way of life for the Venice school board and the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, so there's little leeway for deviations in the budgets. An example of that is the VLTC Coordinator Peter Ponce said that their budget for the new fiscal year is break even at best.

This year, the VLTC had to borrow money from the Education Fund in order to defray ordinary expenses. The $15,000 loan has since been paid off, but only after the VLTC received its funding from the state. It was the lateness of the state funds which necessitated borrowing from the Education Fund. Ponce expects more of the same next year.

Next year the state is going to be slow again in distributing money," said Ponce.

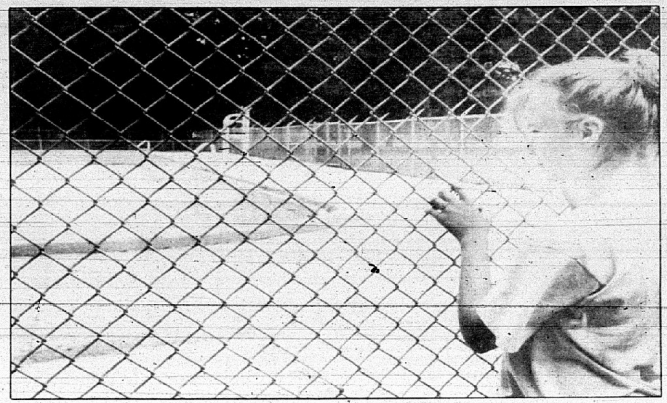

The Venice school board is also looking into cost-cutting measures. The board has gone to bid system for school supplies, which has already saved thousands.

Bids are also the primary method in which the school hires contractors for various jobs in the district.

"We're going to get as much money from the state as we did last year," said Rush. "If we can cut expenses and avoid a huge increase in pay, we'll be alright."

Money is so tight that work on asbestos cleanup for several schools in the district may be delayed or stretched over a period of time before it is finished. A report by Asbestos Abatement Consultants Inc. stated that traces of asbestos were found in furnace pipe wraps and in ceiling tiles.

"It's going to be expensive," said Rush. "The cost could be where we wouldn't want to take it out of the regular fund. We could look at getting funds from somewhere else or doing a little at a time."

Meeting Wednesday on plans for swimming pool

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

The Granite City Park Board will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday to confer with engineers about the Wilson Park swimming pool, which is closed for the 1992 season.

Representatives of Hastings & Chivetta, an engineering firm which is working on recommendations for the pool, are scheduled to be in attendance.

Nancy Sanders-Miles, park board president, said Monday that the board has commissioned the consulting engineers to study and advise as to

"1. The cost and time required for a complete rehabilitation of the pool, including replacement of equipment and facilities as well as structural repair and replacement to make the pool a facility that can be operated in a manner that insures the safety and health of its users."

"2. The cost of the installation of a complete new swimming pool facility."

"Such studies will advise the board of the McKinley toll booth supervisor appointed

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols has taken his first step toward "cleaning up the act" of the toll takers on the McKinley Bridge. And, as he predicted, at least one alderman has had trouble taking the heat.

In response to a request by the aldermen July 29 to improve the appearance and professionalism of the toll takers, Echols agreed to take action. At the time, he warned the City Council members that the action was going to result in workers putting pressure on the aldermen.

When that happens, Echols warned the aldermen, don't "run up here and get in my face" about how the workers are being mistreated.

"If you do, you are going to get your feelings hurt real bad and maybe get a chance to sue me," Echols said.

Two weeks ago, Echols decided to appoint George Rivers to the position of toll booth supervisor and sent a memorandum to the bridge employees.

Although an existing position, it had gone unfilled for more than a decade.

According to Tyrone Q. Echols, the acting bridge manager and the mayor's son, Rivers will be responsible for overseeing the actions of the toll takers and serve as a "watchdog" for problems.

At Tuesday's City Council meeting, Mary Terrell, who works in the toll office and is the mother of Alderman Michael Terrell, complained that Mayor Echols had ignored seniority when choosing Rivers.

She asked that she be allowed to take an "alderman of my choice" and meet with the city's bridge committee.

"Absolutely not," Mayor Echols said, adding that he was "not about to set a precedent of allowing employees with complaints to 'pick and choose' the aldermen to hear their case."

Mayor Echols said the appointment was to a supervisory position, a decision of the executive branch, and "if I wanted to

Help sought in Dietzel killing

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

The Madison County Sheriff's Department is asking for citizens' help in following several leads in the murder of former Granite City resident JoAnn (Onesky) Dietzel.

The battered body of Dietzel, 32, was found by her eight-year-old daughter and a baby sister at her home in the first block of Bethany Lane in Foster Township near Godfrey at about 10:45 a.m. July 13.

Sheriff department reports indicate Dietzel had been beaten with a child's baseball bat and strangled. The bat had been broken in half and a piece of the bat may have been used to stab Dietzel in the stomach.

According to the report, Dietzel had apparently had a party at her home that lasted until about 3 a.m. July 13.

The sheriff's department has set up a 24-hour "hot line" dedicated to the case, according to Capt. Robert Hertz, chief of detectives. The number is (618) 692-4873.

Hertz said that line is dedicated exclusively to the Dietzel case and is not necessarily manned by law enforcement officials.

"We want to stress that this is completely anonymous," Hertz said. "If someone wants to call, give some information, and hang up, that's fine."

"We're interested in information"

Vadalabene returns

SPRINGFIELD — Sen. Sari Vadalabene is back on the job after two weeks in the hospital.

The Edwardsville Democrat attended this week's meeting of the Legislative Audit Commission.

The veteran lawmaker was in St. Anthony's Hospital in Alton for about two weeks after the end of the legislative session in July.

Fluid was drained from Vadalabene's lungs and he also received three blood transfusions for anemia. He has been previously treated for both medical problems.

Vadalabene said he was feeling better after recuperating at home but was still a "little weak" from not having been up and around. A senator since 1970, Vadalabene is seeking re-election to a two-year term in November.

Pontoon Beach official seeks go-cart crackdown

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

In the wake of two go-cart incidents in the metropolitan area in the past week, Pontoon Beach village trustee Marvin Ribbing has asked that the village begin enforcing ordinances against such vehicles.

At Tuesday's village board meeting, Ribbing cited serious injuries to a Pontoon Beach youth who was hurt when his go-cart flipped over during the past week-end. The boy received a broken pelvis and a bruised kidney.

Ribbing said the village needs to exercise more scrutiny in seeking fines against those who disobey the ordinance.

"We're not out to make money, we just want to keep the streets safe," Ribbing said. "It's been a problem from time to time in the past. We're on the outskirts, so people often come out here to ride them. We have to put a stop to that."

Another board topic was the sewer odor that residents in the Georgetown Drive area have been complaining about.

Madison County Special Services Area 1 Superintendent H. Gene Futch said in a letter to the board that an eight-inch sewer line currently in place may be a major part of the problem. He has suggested that it be replaced with 10-inch PVC pipe, which would cost the village $16,000.

While that is being decided on, a 30-gallon container of odor control will be installed at lift station 23A near the Georgetown Drive area. Futch said he hopes the measure will help end the odor problem.

A situation still giving headaches to motorists traveling through Pontoon Beach is the ongoing Pontoon Road construction project. But it appears that the pace of the work has picked up in recent weeks.

County 3rd in toxic chemicals in state

Madison County industries are spewing slightly less toxic chemicals into the environment, but the county remains No. 3 in the state for the amount of such discharges.

A report released by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency on Monday said Madison County plants reported about 15.3 million pounds of toxic chemicals were discharged into the air, water or land in 1990, compared to about 15.8 million pounds in 1989.

The release of one chemical linked to potential health problems, benzene, was up by about 20 percent, according to the report.

Benzene is a byproduct of petroleum refining, with 1.21 million pounds reported to have been released in 1990, up from 1.02 million in 1989. It has been identified as a potential cause of cancer and birth defects.

Madison County Board Environmental Committee Chairman Richard Worthen of Alton said that, in his opinion, industries in the county are not doing enough to clean up their acts.

"Businesses that pollute are putting part of their operating costs on the public," he said. "Worthen said county industries should spend more on anti-pollution efforts. He argued that the investment would help the general economy and the firms themselves in the long run."

The IEPA report said 2.05 million pounds of toxic chemicals were released into the air, accidentally in 1990, with another 1.31 million pounds routinely released through stacks in Madison County.

Another 2.72 million pounds of toxic waste in the county was flushed into sewage systems. About 431,000 pounds went into waterways, about 4.08 million pounds were disposed of in land on plant sites and 4.17 million pounds went to off-site landfills or incinerators.

Zinc topped the list of toxic chemicals released in Madison County, with about 4.42 million pounds reported for 1990, down slightly from 4.59 million pounds the previous year.

In second place was methanol, at 2.63 million pounds in 1990, up from 2.51 million pounds in 1989. Madison County remained in third place among the state's 102 counties in release of toxic chemicals. Cook County was first with 66 million pounds and St. Clair second with 46 million pounds.

Statewide, 232.6 million pounds of hazardous chemicals were reportedly released into the environment in 1990, down 17.3 million pounds from the previous year.

IEPA Director Mary Gade said the decline did not necessarily mean an outright reduction in pollution, since some chemicals required to be reported in 1989 were dropped from the 1990 data and some smaller facilities did not have to report.

Trash train suit settled

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

A payment dispute between Cahokia Marine Services and the Delaware company that brought tons of municipal trash into Sauget, apparently was settled Thursday.

Two separate efforts concerning pay-back from Tennix Inc. were filed on Thursday, but both were withdrawn by Friday because no action was necessary, said Cahokia Marine attorney Joseph Nassif.

"There was no need for the hearing because there were no outstanding things to decide. The last car had been unloaded," he said.

Cahokia Marine Services had filed a complaint for relief against Tennix Inc. to recoup funds Cahokia Marine has spent in removing 90 boxcars of municipal waste from the Sauget rail yard.

The action, filed Thursday in St. Clair County, asked that Cahokia Marine be allowed to keep equipment and other property belonging to Tennix Inc. until Tennix paid for services provided by Cahokia Marine.

The two companies entered into a verbal agreement June 22 whereby Cahokia Marine would allow Tennix to store municipal waste in Sauget until it could be moved. Now that the work is done, Tennix had refused to pay and has contested the bill, the complaint stated.

Cahokia Marine also had filed a motion Thursday asking Associate Judge James M. Radcliffe to modify his July 7 order and force Tennix to place $200,000 in an interest-bearing account in St. Clair County to cover costs.

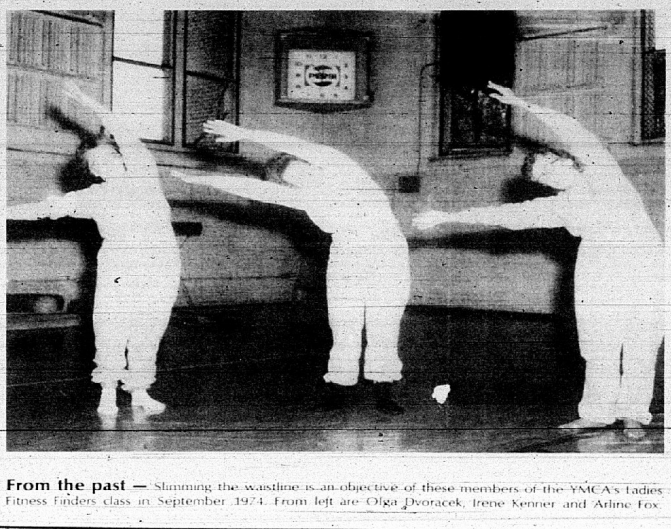

A hearing on that matter set for Friday was canceled. The trash in Sauget came to the attention of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency after a spontaneous fire broke out in one of the rail cars. An inspection showed that conditions were not secure, IEPA officials said, and odors, diesel and leaks from the boxcars were affecting the site.

The IEPA later filed a suit to force some action by Cahokia Marine and Tennix because the Sauget site was not licensed to store or transport waste.

However, Radcliffe ordered the trash removed by trucks to area landfills by July 22. The deadline was later extended to July 31 because of equipment breakdowns and problems with getting employees.

A hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday to determine what fines should be levied against the two companies.

Motor vehicle charges

Dennis L. Willoughby, 28, of the 2300 block of Illinois Avenue, was arrested at his home at 9:40 a.m. July 29 on a warrant charging him with an offense relating to a motor vehicle and unlawful alteration of a certificate of title. Bond on the warrant is $50,000.

DUI, stoplight charges

Michael J. Messick, 33, of the 1600 block of Fourth Street in Madison, was arrested at 5:01 p.m. July 28 and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, driving with an expired vehicle registration and disobeying a red traffic light.

An officer reported observing a pickup truck with an expired registration sticker southbound in the 1700 block of Madison Avenue.

The vehicle allegedly ran a red light at Madison Avenue and 16th Street while a pedestrian was in the crosswalk.

The truck stopped on 14th Street between Iowa Street and Washington Avenue, but as the officer exited his squad car, the truck proceeded east again on 14th Street, according to a police report.

The vehicle, driven by Messick, finally stopped in the middle of the 1300 block of Washington Avenue.

Messick was lodged pending $307 bail.

Arrested at City Hall

David A. Kays, 22, of the 2500 block of East 24th Street, was arrested at City Hall at 10:21 a.m. July 28 and charged with domestic battery.

A witness told police he saw Kays kick his wife, Michele

Kays, 20, of Briarwood Drive, in the left leg in a disturbance at City Hall.

3 arrested at overpass

Christopher Seth Williams, 20, of the 1900 block of Fifth Street in Madison, Jeffrey A. Board, 21, of the 2300 block of Delmar Avenue and Michael J. Barnett, 17, of the 2200 block of Delmar Avenue were arrested near the 19th Street overpass at 12:36 a.m. July 28.

Williams was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis. Board and Barnett were each charged with prowling.

An officer reported seeing five men standing outside a car parked under the overpass. As the officer approached, two of the men, later identified as Board and Barnett, fled on foot.

A bag containing cannabis was allegedly taken from Williams' left front pocket during a search. Board and Barnett were apprehended nearby.

No charges were filed against the other two men.

Rekowski's staff is expanded

An attorney and an investigator will join Madison County Public Defender John Rekowski to help speed drug cases through the courts.

Rekowski announced Wednesday he has hired Tim Berkley as an assistant public defender and Lyndell "Bud" Pyatt as an investigator.

The two were hired with the help of a $68,982 grant from the Illinois Criminal Justice Authority to be matched by $23,334 in county money.

The grant is the first of its kind awarded to a public defender's office in downstate Illinois. The money for the program comes from federal forfeitures of property in drug cases.

Rekowski said the program will help speed drug cases through the courts and relieve overcrowding in the Madison County Jail.

Having one attorney responsible for drug cases will speed the preparation of cases for trial, and other lawyers in the office will have more time for non-drug cases, Rekowski said.

Part of Pyatt's job will be to link some drug offenders with treatment programs as an alternative to prison.

Berkley will join Rekowski's staff after two years as a Madison County assistant state's attorney. Pyatt recently retired after more than 22 years as an Alton police officer.

Rekowski said the number of drug cases handled by his office tripled from 65 in 1989 to 196 in 1991. Drug cases were 12.7 percent of the office's workload in 1989 and 24.4 percent in 1991.

Man caught after chase

Nick Esparza, 21, of St. Louis was arrested at 10:32 p.m. July 25 and charged with escape and resisting a peace officer following a chase around the 2000 block of Edison Avenue.

An officer on patrol reported seeing Esparza in the 2000 block of Edison. Knowing that Esparza was wanted on an active warrant charging Esparza with prowling, the officer attempted to handcuff Esparza, according to a police report.

Esparza allegedly pulled away from the officer, and was chased by officers around the block and into a yard, where he was cornered.

When an officer attempted to place handcuffs on Esparza, he refused to put his hands behind his back, according to the report.

Esparza was eventually placed in custody.

Purple Martins — Purple Martins flock to the Pontoon Beach home of Charlotte Fowler in the 4200 block of East Lake Drive. Every year since 1964, when Fowler's father, Everett Duvall, put up the first Martin house, the birds have been coming back each spring. The numbers have increased over the years to about 90 and they keep the mosquito population in check around Fowler's home. Each spring the birds show up and nest until late summer, when they leave the area for the winter. Above: Charlotte Fowler, right, and her mother, Glenda Duvall, in front of the Martin house. Madison gets breakfast plan grant

Madison Community Unit School District 12 has been awarded a grant of $22,286 to start school breakfast programs at Blair School, Harris School, Middle School and the Senior High School during the next school year.

The money is part of $5 million in federal grants which the U.S. Department of Agriculture is awarding to districts in 27 states to help start school breakfast programs.

Thirty-six Illinois schools in 13 districts in Aurora, Mount Sterling, Carlinville, Chester, Jerseyville, McLeansboro, Carthage, Madison, Palestine, Robinson, South Holland, Waverly and Zion received grants totaling $142,636 to start breakfast programs in the coming school year.

Betty J. Nelson, administrator of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, said nearly five million children, or more than 16,000 schools now participate in the School Breakfast Program nationwide, a 27 percent each year through 1994.

"We know kids learn better with a good breakfast," Nelson said. "These grants have helped bring more than 6,000 schools and a million children into the School Breakfast Program since they began in 1969."

"We're delighted to see the grants encouraging new local programs," Nelson said. "Breakfast is an important step toward assuring that every child comes to school ready to learn every day."

The grants were awarded on the basis of need, number of children who could be added to the program, and feasibility and cost-effectiveness of the school districts' proposals.

Nelson said the federal grants will supplement money being provided by the states to start the new breakfast programs. She said most of the grant money would be spent by the school districts for capital expenditures, but that some would also go for training of food service workers and to publicize the new programs. The grant funds will be available to the school districts in school year 1992-93.

Cholesterol screening planned

Cholesterol screening will be available at National Supermarket, 3100 Madison Ave., Granite City, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 11.

State commission says Scroggins missed deadline

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Enough delay is enough, in the opinion of the administrator for the Illinois Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission.

She was referring to the proposed suspension of the law license of Leon Scroggins Sr. for alleged mishandling of seven clients' cases.

Mary Robinson, ARDC administrator, filed an answer July 9 to a request by Scroggins for permission to file exceptions to the report and recommendation of the ARDC Review Board.

The Review Board on May 8 had upheld the ARDC Hearing Board's recommendation to suspend the license of the 60-year-old former Madison County state's attorney, a Granite City attorney.

should have remanded the matter to the Hearing Board for another opportunity for him to present evidence.

In her answer, Robinson said Scroggins' request "is, in effect, a request for another bite of the apple."

Scroggins

Scroggins could not be reached for comment Friday.

The ARDC considers charges filed against lawyers and makes recommendations for disciplinary action to the Supreme Court. If the charges are upheld, actions can range from a reprimand to suspension to disbarment.

Scroggins previously sought to have the Hearing Board decision reversed, and he had recommended a reprimand as a more appropriate punishment than suspension.

According to Robinson's July 9 answer, Scroggins failed to meet a deadline in filing his request for leave to file exceptions.

Supreme Court rules state such a request must be filed within 30 days of service. Scroggins filed his request June 25. He was served with the Review Board report May 8, records show.

A further delay in imposing sanctions against Scroggins would not protect the public and would undermine the integrity of the profession, according to Robinson's answer.

(Scroggins' conduct throughout the course of these proceedings is reflective of the misconduct for which he should be sanctioned," Robinson's answer stated.

A seven-count complaint against Scroggins was initially filed with the ARDC Nov. 14, 1989, alleging Scroggins failed to properly represent clients in three criminal cases and four civil cases.

When Scroggins did not answer the allegations, an order was filed Jan. 29, 1990, holding that the charges were deemed admitted.

A report from the Hearing Board, filed March 9, 1990, found (see SCROGGINS, Page 10A)

Audit of county's vehicles to begin

A St. Louis accounting firm has been given the green light to begin a full-scale audit of the county's $2.7 million vehicle fleet.

The Madison County Finance Committee unanimously agreed Thursday to hire Arthur Andersen & Co. for $7,500. The audit, which accounting officials said could take from five to eight weeks, may start early next week.

"We want to know where we can save money," County Board member Jack Frandsen, D-Alhambra, said. "We would like to know if we're getting the most bang for our buck."

Board member Alan Dunstan, a Troy Democrat, said, "I want to get a handle on this situation. I'm in favor of the study being done."

"We're not just looking at the sheriff, we're looking at the whole county," Sheriff Bob Churchill sparked the controversy in June after he asked the Finance Committee for five new squad cars to cover law enforcement personnel have since been shifted to provide enough cars for the Godfrey patrols.

Finance Committee members last week delayed considering County Auditor Fred Batton's request for the $7,500 to hire Arthur Andersen because they wanted to hear from Churchill, but the sheriff couldn't make Thursday's meeting because of a scheduling conflict, County Administrator James K. Monday said.

The committee decided to move ahead without the sheriff's comments.

"We don't know of any abuses," Monday pointed out. "We didn't know of anybody pulling the wool over anybody's eyes. We're not creating a witch-hunt atmosphere."

Accountants from the St. Louis firm said they plan to go to each of the county's 14 departments that account for the 176-unit fleet, compile how many business miles are put on each one compared with personal miles and tally each vehicle's original price tag and maintenance costs.

"All you're going to get from us are the facts," Paul Wentz of Arthur Andersen said. "We will try to keep it as objective as possible."

Committee members stressed during the meeting that every department with cars will come under scrutiny, not just the Sheriff's Department. If need be, Wentz said, each employee who drives a county car may be interviewed to determine whether the county is getting the most for its money.

Accountants may also offer alternatives for County Board members to consider in covering the county's transportation needs.

The results should be compiled before late September when officials begin looking into next year's budget.

"If I move as fast as we can," Batton said.

Illinois Power office here getting facelift

Illinois Power's office at 22nd and Adams streets in Granite City will be undergoing a major facelift in the months ahead.

Plans are on the drawing board to redesign the front interior space to accommodate customers who will now be coming to this office for services.

It plans to close its office at Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues and move those employees to Adams Street, where all customer service activities will take place.

Field operations personnel currently housed on Adams Street will move to the utility's Maryville facility.

Included in the renovation plans are changes that will make the building accessible, from the parking spaces to the inside environment.

Pete Gunnell, area manager, called the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation Services to ensure that the remodeling plans not only met the new Americans with Disability Act (ADA) standards, but were changes that were also practical and functional for customers and employees.

Keith Soika, rehabilitation engineer with the technology program, and Janet Kohlbecker, counselor, both of the Department of Rehabilitation Services, talked with Chuck Smith, electric distribution supervisor, about accessibility and work site accommodations.

A ramp will be built at the front entrance to accommodate wheelchair users and others with mobility problems.

Public restrooms will be renovated for easier access. Door handles will be made easier to grip and turn. Shelves will be lowered and work space for employees will be rearranged.

Businesses interested in an accessibility survey or assistance with work site modifications can call the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation Services at 618-377-0755.

OH MY ACHING CORNS!

A phrase so commonly used by those suffering needlessly from painful corns. Although trimming them affords temporary relief, within 1-2 months regrowth of the corn occurs along with the pain and discomfort. The recurrence is due to the underlying calcium deposit causing excessive pressure where the skin responds by building up that corn tissue. In almost all instances the corn can be permanently removed by an in office procedure requiring little or no time off work. There is no need to suffer any longer—consult the physicians and surgeons at the FOOT HEALTH CENTERS.

THE VOICE BOX:

Do you think George Bush should replace Dan Quayle on the Republican ticket?

By T.W. MILLER

Mike Schuette Granite City
"From what I've read, I would say no for now."

Patty Fountain Granite City
"Yes, he probably should. The media is eating him alive. He looks bad every time he opens his mouth."

Wendy Champion Granite City
"No. It would show that he didn't have faith in him to begin with."

Joy Caschetta Granite City
"No, because I like Quayle's values."

Robin Wilbur Granite City
"Yes, if it's going to hurt George Bush. I don't know anyone who thinks Quayle is a good vice president."

Granite City patrolman Ken Crawford arrests Charles Lane, MD, general and vascular surgeon at St. Elizabeth Medical Center to kick off the annual Cancer Society's Jail n Bail event. PAT Callahan, service and rehab chairperson for the ACS Quad Cities Unit, looks on.

Cancer Society 'jail' benefit set for Friday

"I was framed" may be your cry if you are arrested by the American Cancer Society on Friday, Aug. 7.

The Quad Cities Unit of ACS is sponsoring a "Jail and Bail" at the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center in Granite City. "Prisoners" are being sought to raise money for the Society's programs of research, service and education.

John Milhorgan, chairman of the event, said many already are scheduled for arrest and jailing. Once the person is "jailed," he or she will be finned by a judge on duty. The person then will be placed in a cell where a telephone will be located.

The person will use the telephone to call friends who in turn will make pledges to the Society. When the pledge equals the amount of the fine, the person will be released from jail.

Those wanting to have someone arrested may do so by paying a $25 fee to the American Cancer Society.

Further information about the program is available by calling the Society at 798-3005.

Former official who quit under fire gets state contract

SPRINGFIELD — A state official who quit under fire for flying first class because he was too big for coach is back with a hefty consulting contract.

State Comptroller Dawn Clark Natchez gave the Criminal Justice Information Authority a "Thumbs Down" award Wednesday for giving a $40,000, six-month, no-bid contract to its former executive director, J. David Coldren.

Coldren resigned his $75,744-a-year job in February after it was revealed he had flown first class on state business trips 21 times over 2½ years. He said he had to fly in the wider first-class seats because he couldn't fit into the ones in coach.

Natchez blamed Gov. Jim Edgar's administration for Coldren's contract, which took effect April 1 and runs through September. The contract calls for Coldren to advise authority Chairman Peter Bensingner of Chicago and help with the transition to a new director.

Coldren is getting $6,666 per month to "provide consultation and advice" to Bensingner. The agency funnels federal anti-crime grants to local police and prosecutors.

"The Edgar administration created the impression that Mr. Coldren was forced to resign, if he was not actually fired. Under the circumstances, it is, at the very least, questionable to award him an exit contract," Natchez said.

But Edgar said Natchez had the wrong information and that he wasn't at fault.

Edgar noted he appointed only seven of the 15 authority members.

"If I was on the authority, I wouldn't have approved the contract," he said. "I was unhappy when I heard they offered him that contract. But they felt it was necessary to get him to resign and have a smooth transition."

Jon Stemkoski's Celebrant Singers

Celebrant Singers to perform here Aug. 19

Jon Stemkoski's Celebrant Singers, an internationally known Christian music ministry headquartered in Visalia, Calif., will present a concert of contemporary Christian music on Sunday, Aug. 19, at 6:30 p.m. at Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave.

Their two-hour service is a blend of inspiring music, praise and worship and the preaching of the Word.

Featuring ten singers and a 12-piece orchestra, the music of the Celebrant Singers includes a selection of contemporary Gospel songs, smooth choral arrangements, liturgical music, praise songs and worship choruses. Various group members will share a word of personal testimony, and a short documentary film of the Celebrant Singers overseas ministry will be presented.

Celebrant Singers founder and director, Jon Stemkoski, is the driving force behind this ministry. Stemkoski has conducted services in all 50 states, Canada, Iran, Latin America, Egypt, Hong Kong, India, Sri Lanka, and all parts of Europe, including Communist Eastern Europe. He spent several years singing with and directing the Continental Singers, and served as administrator of Campus Musical Resources at Oral Roberts University prior to founding the Celebrant Singers.

While similar groups traditionally have had an exclusively Protestant audience, the Celebrant Singers is the first full-time contemporary Christian singing group to have a widespread ministry among American Roman Catholics. Since 1977, they have provided special music with the liturgy, and given concerts in hundreds of Catholic parishes throughout the world. Recently, Celebrant Singers were involved in an extensive four-month outreach throughout India, France, Italy, England, and Northern Ireland. The group also had the privilege of ministering in drug-ridden Colombia, where members shared in services before some of the top military men of the country. In 1984, while in Rome, the Celebrant Singers ministered in St. Peter's Square before an Easter-week crowd of over 120,000 people. Stemkoski and the Celebrants were also honored by a private audience with Pope John Paul II.

The Celebrant Singers have recorded six albums. Their most recent recording, entitled "He Will Be Strong," has been well received. Celebrant Singers recordings are available in Christian bookstores throughout North America.

Arnold receives rider certification

Kelly Arnold, owner of Gateway Stables in Pontoon Beach, recently received her instructor certification from the Association for Horsemanship Safety and Education. She was rated as an advanced rider in both the English and Western styles of horsemanship and is certified to award students to the First Class Level.

To be judged for this nationally accepted rating, Arnold attended a week-long clinic of rigorous training and testing at Dudley Gallahue Valley Girl Scout Camp in Indianapolis, Ind. Kelly is the third metro-east riding instructor to achieve a rating based on her safe and knowledgeable techniques for conducting a group and private riding lessons and horse-related exercises.

This summer Arnold is filling the role of head wrangler at Camp Chan Ya Ta in Prairie Grove, Ill. The camp is owned and operated by the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, which serves nearly 14,000 members in six counties in Illinois.

Volunteers from Boy Scout Troop 103 show off a new house number at the Anchorage Homes.

One Eagle Scout project:
Stencilling seniors' addresses

The Anchorage Homes for the elderly was the site of Mark Dittman's Eagle Scout project on April 18.

Mark's project consisted of stencilling in fluorescent orange paint the addresses of 200 elderly residents' homes in the Anchorage complex. The Eagle Scout project is one of the final steps toward attaining the Eagle Scout Rank in the Boy Scouts of America.

Mark's primary duties were to plan, direct and implement all the necessary steps to complete his project. One of the steps of the planning phase was to obtain the approval and support of Granite City Housing Authority Directors, Mike McKeon and Mike McKeon, Police Chief Don Knight and Fire Chief Jerry Wallace.

In addition, the Trails West Council Eagle Project Board of Review Committee made recommendations and gave the BSA final approval of the project on April 14 to Mark.

Mark is a member of Troop 103 of Holy Family Parish.

Advance planning required Mark to obtain the necessary supplies such as paint, stencils, tape, gloves, and yardsticks.

The following local merchants and businesses supplied all the needed articles as mentioned.

Don's Hardware, paint; Central Hardware, paint yardsticks;

Wagner Painting, stencils/cardboard; Granite City Steel, stencils; Herdman Steel, gloves; Business Equipment Center, stencils/tape; Wal-Mart, stencils/paint.

Mark's planning also involved the measuring and trial running of a doorstep at the Anchorage complex and mapping out the area into sections. By doing this, groups of two or three volunteers were assigned to areas of the Anchorage complex using a color-coded map of the complex. Finally, Mark asked members of Troop 103, friends, and his family to volunteer their labor to stencil the doorsteps of the units in Anchorage.

The following is a list of the people who gave their Saturday to help make the project a reality.

The work was done from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Lunch was provided by Mark's mother. Photographic documentation was done under Mark's direction by his father.

Granite Bowl youth bowlers earning lots of scholarship money in tourneys

Junior bowlers from Granite Bowl have been big winners in recent national and area tournaments, and they've been compiling more than high scores.

They've also accumulated large sums of scholarship money.

Brendan Phelan, who carries a 230 average in the Monday Night Big Guy Little Guy League and a 213 average in the Youth-Adult League, won third place and a $2,000 scholarship in the national Junior Bowling Championship in Tucson, Ariz.

Phelan posted a 265 average during the first 12-game qualifying round and a 212 average in the top 24 rollofs. That qualified him for the final four-step ladder championship. He won his first match before dropping the second by two pins, 246-244.

Phelan began bowling 13 years ago at age 7 and is considering a pro career after college.

"I like the competitive nature of bowling and the friendly people you meet," he said. "I owe a lot of people thanks for my modest success. My parents, my coach Jack Wettler, Coca-Cola sponsors of the national tournament and Granite Bowl's Junior Director, Shirley Byrd, for her encouragement.

Byrd believes Phelan has the talent and temperament to succeed as a pro.

"He could do it," she said. "But you never know what the future holds. It could be a viable option once he completes college."

Jason Hoult, 17, recently was awarded a $500 scholarship for taking second place in the Junior Stars Championship in Chicago. He had a 300 game in that tournament.

"The previous week I had nine strikes in a row, then messed up on my 10th ball and only got seven pins," he said. "This time I really concentrated on the 10th and 11th frames. I felt I had good shots in those frames I'd hit the pocket in the last frame."

Hoult, who bowls in the Big Guy Little Guy League at Granite Bowl, admits he was a little nervous during the perfect game, but his previous experience helped him stay calm. He also finished first in a Gateway Title Classic and won a GMJIC Invitational Scholarship title over the past several years.

Robert Brooksher Jr., 15, won fifth place and a $100 scholarship in competition with more than 200 Midwest champions in the July National Junior Regionals. He carries a 213 average in league play. Brooksher's mother, who started him bowling at the age of 5, assists Byrd in Granite Bowl's Junior Program.

Granite Bowl Juniors also swept the top four places in the Traveling League Scholarship Tournament at Olivette Lanes on July 19. Frank Reyes took first and a $300 scholarship. Keith Hendricks took second and a $200 scholarship. He also placed seventh in the Houston Junior Regionals, where he earned a $50 scholarship. Tina Cichlar took third and $100, while Mike Noble finished fourth.

GCHS tennis team meets on Monday

Prospective members of the Granite City High School girls tennis team this fall will have a meeting Monday, according to new coach Laura Chappell. The meeting will be at the high school tennis courts starting at 9:30 a.m. and lasting no later than 10:15. The meeting will take care of all required paperwork. All players must have a physical on file before the first practice, which is scheduled for Aug. 18.

Anyone who has had her physical should bring it to the meeting. Anyone having her physical after Monday should bring it to the first practice. Chappell will also have copies of a Code and Conduct Book and commitment form Monday, which should be filled out and returned at the first practice.

Because there are so few practices between Aug. 18 and the first match, all practices will be mandatory. Practice is at 8 a.m. each day. All players should bring a racket and jump rope.

Chappell calling for GCHS golfers

The first practice for the Granite City High School golf team will be held Aug. 17 at 8 a.m. at Arlington Golf Club, according to veteran coach Russ Chappell.

All players must have a physical exam before that date. Forms are available in the high school office. The ninth-grade candidates may use the physical required to enter high school. Insurance will not be provided by the school. But a student plan that will cover students in golf or any other school activity will be available through the school early in the first week. Golfers will need to provide their own bag, clubs, balls, tees and suitable shoes.

Chappell is at the course most Mondays through Thursdays if golfers would like to arrange a time for a filming session.

The first practice will begin after the large practice green. In case of rain, the team will meet in the clubhouse.

GCHS soccer meeting scheduled for Aug. 6

Students going out for the Granite City High School soccer team should report to a meeting Aug. 6 in the GCHS gym annex. The meeting will begin at 11 a.m. Coach Gene Baker would like players to have their physical exams and parent consent forms at that time. He will also go over plans for the midnight practice, which will begin at 12:01 a.m. Aug. 17.

DU banquet Aug. 22

The Tri-Cities Chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold its ninth annual banquet Aug. 22.

There will be a boat raffle, a limited edition DU shotgun raffle and auctions. Many items are limited editions and may be obtained only at a DU dinner.

All proceeds go to DU and are tax deductible. For tickets or more information, call Tony Zedolek at 876-8526 or Mike McLean at 931-2909.

Fall softball signups start at park Monday

Emig attended a national convention of state games last year in St. Louis. He left feeling optimistic that the Prairie State Games can survive into the 1990s.

"The purpose of it was to exchange ideas and see how different states do things," Emig said of the convention.

A dramatic number of states funded their events privately.

"We learned that the Illinois games and the New York games—they're called the Empire State Games—were the Cadillac of the state games in terms of what they provided for the kids," said Emig.

"All the others provided no state money whatsoever. That's one of the reasons why we look at it optimistically. You can do it through the private sector. That's been shown in other states."

Prior to the legislature's funding cutbacks, athletes were provided with housing and meals during the three days of the Games. This year, however, they were responsible for making their own arrangements.

"A lot of the good athletes still showed up," said Emig. "It's a matter of priorities. I guess, whether this is something they really want to do."

"A lot of U of I basketball players were up there, like Dean Thomas, Richard Keene, T.J. Wheeler, Tom Michael and Andy Kaufman."

"I think, for the most part, the competition went well. But a busy year awaits officals involved with the Games, including Emig.

"Their main concern is money, and that's going to be one of my focuses in this next year," said Emig. "My main concern is to use the money for housing. For a kid who can't afford it, that's a lot of money."

"Right now, as far as organization and the coaches we have, a lot of them have been around a long time and they know the ins and out of it. I look at my job as more of an athletic director."

Emig said the other seven regional directors share his hopes for the Games' future.

"We're all very confident and enthusiastic about keeping things going," said Emig. "We're all confident the Games will exist next year. Whether they exist in the form they were this year remains to be seen."

Roxana joining us next season. That's quite a load for one person to handle.

"We could have three chairmen working under Ralph. There would be a Junior Legion chairman and two chairmen responsible for the North and South Divisions. All those people would have to answer to Ralph. His main responsibility would be to overlook the district and do about his administrative duties."

Wirz hopes to finalize the deal at tonight's executive meeting.

"We should have a good idea by late Sunday night," Wirz said. "I want to get this settled before the season's over. I can respect Ralph asking for time. But I'm pushing real hard for him."

"We'll see how it goes," Burnett said. "The offer is real tempting and I plan on giving it a hard look after my season's completed."

•Final

talked to Ryan after we missed that chance and told him it was very important to shut them down in the next inning. They had the momentum after that inning, but he put them down in order (in the fifth)."

The Triplets also went down in order in their fifth, and at that point Boschert and Reeves had allowed only one hit apiece. But catcher John Corzair started the winning rally with a single up the middle. Marshall was up to bat, but Boschert walked him. Names bunted the runners to second and third. Then Boschert walked Herman after getting ahead 9-2 on the count.

"I have all the confidence in the world that Billy was going to put the ball in play, but it really hurt them to walk him after being way ahead in the count," said Burnett. "Then we had the right guy up there at the right time."

Reeves batted 500 (6-for-12) in the tournament with six RBI, and his sixth hit made the difference.

"We hadn't been getting guys in from third base," said Reeves. "We had the Cardinals' disease. Alton was pumped in their dugout, and we didn't really respond last night."

Thursday was indeed a bad day. Alton pitcher Dana Hansen made amends for the throwing error which cost Post 126 Monday's 4-3 loss to the Triplets. Ben Hicks (2-2) took the loss as Alton broke a 1-1 tie with three in the fifth. After the game, Burnett took his team in center field for a one-way discussion.

"I don't like getting embarrassed on our home field," he said. "They said they could do it and told me to relax. It was hard to do that, but this feels as good as any of them."

It's Burnett's third divisional playoff title, and the Triplets were going for their second straight District 22 title and third in five years this weekend.

"We weren't ready to put the uniforms away yet," said Reeves.

•Eagles

"That was the crucial inning," said Valtmeyer manager Dennis Pieper, whose team is 13-9 heading into today's doubleheader in Millstadt. "Kevin was able to come in and pitch out of that jam. We could have easily been down by four or five."

Hirshany took a 4-2 lead into the fifth, but a three-run homer by Tim Degener gave Valtmeyer the lead for good.

The Eagles had runners at second and third with two outs in the seventh, but center fielder Kris Landgraf caught Doug Duncan's sinking line drive.

The top four teams in each division broke the playoffs, which start Saturday.

Doctors say tanning usually hazardous

SPRINGFIELD — New state regulations for tanning businesses cover everything from the need to wear goggles to the allowable intensity of ultraviolet light.

The Illinois State Medical Society and the Illinois Dermatological Society lobbied for state licensing that passed without controversy last year and took effect July 1.

The medical groups have taken a position that tanning generally is hazardous to the health and tanning salons are worse than being in the sun.

The law's backers said the ultraviolet light used in tanning beds causes inflamed blood vessels, itching and allergic rashes and said long-term use can lead to skin cancer and premature wrinkling and aging.

The medical society also said there has been a substantial increase in burned corneas and other eye injuries from the use of tanning beds.

Illinois State Fair opens Aug. 15, offers activities for seniors

The 1992 Illinois State Fair, Aug. 15-23 will again provide a range of activities for older people throughout the state, according to Nancy Nelson, acting director of the Illinois Department on Aging.

The air-conditioned State Fair Senior Center, located in the Illinois Building, will bring a variety of entertainment and education to this year's fair-goers," said Nelson.

St. John's Hospital of Springfield, will again be providing health screening, and more than 30 other exhibitors will be sharing information on everything from senior meal and transportation programs to health insurance, tax relief, discounts and even riverboat gambling.

"As for entertainment, we'll have prize give-aways, marching band, fashion shows, song and dance ensembles and comedy routines. The entertainers represent all age groups, and they are volunteers from every part of the state to make this happen," said Nelson.

Entertainment will take place in the Senior Center Auditorium, and a smaller staging area in the Exhibit Hall, will feature exercise and safety demonstrations, as well as presentations on library resources, consumer and environmental issues, genealogy and information of special interest to veterans.

New Senior Center events this year include a Grandparent Grandchild Look Alike Contest, sponsored by Lt. Governor Bruce Rauner, and a statewide Senior Spelling Bee on Aug. 19, sponsored by the Association of Illinois Senior Centers. The Illinois Senior Center Association and the Illinois Department on Aging will bring back two intergenerational fashion shows to the fair.

Members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) will be serving free orange drink to seniors at the fair.

"We consider the Senior Center, which is just inside the main gate, the only stop for seniors or senior fair-goers. Other major attractions include the Ethnic Village, International Building, Forestry, the Artisans Building, Conservation World, and Coliseum and Grandstand," Nelson said.

Information on Senior Center activities can be obtained by calling the Department on Aging at 1-800-252-8966.
